Trainers and Programmes	Harriet Anderson (Ph.D., MSTAT) is a certified Teacher of the Alexander Technique and runs a private practice in the Technique in Vienna. She also teaches at the Dept. of British and American Studies at the University of Vienna, after first having had a career writing and publishing her original research on the early Viennese women's movement and teaching at the German Department of Vienna University. Born in London, she was educated at the universities of Cambridge, Freiburg, and London, where she received her Ph.D. For articles and a podcast on the Technique and its benefits for teachers please visit Harriet's website at http://www.harrietanderson.com. LOOKING AFTER YOURSELF IN THE CLASSROOM This course will focus on equipping participants with tools to deal with the physical, vocal and psychological challenges teaching can present so that both teacher and also pupil may benefit. Our foundation will be the Alexander Technique, a method frequently used in complementary medicine and performing arts training. The course is highly practical and interactive. There will be plenty of opportunity for questions, reflection, and discussion. There will be hand-outs and a resources list. Participants should wear comfortable clothing, bring a mat to lie on and a few paperback books to act as a headrest.	Hugh Dellar Hugh Dellar is an EFL teacher at the University of Westminster, London, where he is also a teacher trainer. He is the co-author of the general English course book series, Innovations, published by Heinle ELT. He is also an online instructor for Cengage Learning's ELT Advantage programme. His main interests revolve around teaching natural useful language. He previously taught in Indonesia and has presented papers, workshops and teacher training courses all over the world. You can find out more about him at: http://hughdellar.blogspot.com/ ???? TITLE OF SESSION STILL IN PLANNING ??? Hugh is still travelling the world, but will get back to us shortly with his description of what he will be doing for the TEA summer school – it is sure to be entertaining and enlightening, whatever he decides to do!
